

Did you know...

In Scouts, Sixers are called Patrol Leaders.

Like Sixers, Patrol Leaders help leaders decide what activities the Troop will do and attend special events just for Patrol Leaders!

Congratulations on being made a Sixer

Being a Sixer

Being a Sixer will help you to be an even better leader. It is a challenge, but you have been chosen because your leaders know you have what it takes.

As a Sixer, you will get the chance to do lots of great things like:

- Going to training days and enjoying days out for Sixers and Seconders.
- Getting involved in Sixer forums and talking about what badges and activities the Pack would like to do.
- Running games and teaching new things to other Cubs in your Pack.

Top tips

1. Help with the start and close of your meeting
2. Be a kind role model for other Cubs in your Pack
3. Help the leaders with deciding which activities to do and attend Pack Forums
4. Help with Investitures and welcoming new Cubs
5. Do your best
6. Have fun!

My personal goal as a Sixer is:

WELL DONE

Your Leader thinks you're the right person to lead and help all the other Cubs because

You will be given a special badge so everyone knows you are the Sixer. You can wear it on your sleeve under all your other badges.
